

HE IS QUEER SORT OF BURGLAR

One Who Is Operating Here
Not of Usual Order.

ON SNEAK-THIEF ORDER

Results of His Depredations
So Far Slight.

There are burglars and burglars, but the one who is passing Wichita such an affectionate attention just now is of a new kind.

No one has seen more of him than the tip of his coat-tail. He has not entered any house where he thought there were people, sleeping or waking. He will not take anything but coin. He does not employ any of the well known methods of professional housebreakers. It is doubtful if he has a confederate. He has been surprised repeatedly, but does not desert. And yet he is not daring, in that he attacks only empty houses.

Shirlock Holmes, if given these facts, would come to the conclusion that most of Wichita is continuing to sleep. A sneak-thief who is trying to break into the burglary business by degrees.

The only remarkable thing that he has accomplished has been to escape detection and arrest. But if he is well-timed, he must know that the city is looking for him and that he might better take a vacation and get into a trade that will bring him better remuneration than he has gained so far in his depredations.

The burglarizing of the houses in this city began last summer, and several houses were entered within a few weeks. The people began to look for the robber, the police began to look for the burglar, and the city and the burglar soon left for better fields. The police do not think that the man who was prowling around houses last summer is the same fellow who is doing so this spring, as the tracks of his shoes were larger than those of his successor. Another view that last summer's burglar is not the one who visits houses this spring is that last summer the robber never went upstairs, while this year the thief has no compunction about going into any part of the house that he chooses, so long as no one is in it.

After the robbery in this city ceased last fall, a number of burglaries were committed in Guthrie and Oklahoma City and the police think that they were committed by the man who was caught out of Wichita.

During the street fair last fall there was not a burglary, even though many of the people left their homes for hours at a time every night. During the winter there were several attempted burglaries, but they were not as common as the new ones.

Within the past few weeks the burglaries have become more frequent. They are evidently committed by a man, who lives in Wichita and knows the people. He usually watches on the outside until he sees them go away and then slips in and hunts for spoils. This is indicated by the robbery at Mrs. Woodard on North Tenth street last Wednesday night. Mrs. Woodard and her daughter Winifred had gone to a reception. The robber had evidently seen them leave the house, and could tell by the way they were dressed that they would spend the evening at a party and would not return for several hours.

The same point is evidenced by the burglary at the home of Dr. McCoy on the same night. This small thief had seen Dr. McCoy and Mrs. McCoy drive away and he entered the house after their departure. His calculations about when they would return were erroneous, however, for he was caught in the house, and Dr. McCoy called on the night he had been starting after the burglar. The thief would not be confined in the basement of the city building.

Dr. McCoy has been so convinced that there was but one robber in this house for he could find in the mind the tracks

INTENSE SUFFERING From Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble.

Instantly Relieved and Permanently
Cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A New Discovery, But Not a Patent Medicine.

In bold relief an interesting account of what he considers a remarkable case of severe stomach trouble and chronic dyspepsia by the use of the new discovery, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

He says: "The patient was a man who had suffered, to my knowledge, for years with dyspepsia. Everything he ate seemed to sour and create gas in the stomach. He had some fine chills in the back, shoulder blades and thighs, and a constant burning, itching, smarting and loss of flesh. The heart became enlarged, causing palpitation and shortness of breath.

"I gave him powerful laxatives and blood purifiers, but to no purpose. An expert physician finally brought a case of dyspepsia of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at a drug store and gave them to him. After immediate relief was given, and after he had used four boxes he was to all appearances fully cured.

"There was no more acidity or sour water, no more burning after meals, the appetite was restored and he has gained weight and is in good health in all respects."

"Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are advertised and sold in drug stores. I have found them a most valuable aid in my professional line of medicine, and they are perfectly harmless and can be given to children in terrible cases of colic, indigestion, and other ailments of the stomach. Improper diet of food."

"I have been using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for years, and I can say that they are the best medicine I have ever used for the treatment of the stomach. Improper diet of food."

of but one man. He was large almost estimated to be about No. 9. Mrs. McCoy says he was a white hat.

At some of the places robbed there are indications that the thief has a confederate, who watches for the approach of the inmates while his pal goes through the bureau. When the home of J. H. Treason was robbed, the burglar went out of the back door, as the inmates of the house observed from the front, showing that he had been forewarned.

When Walter Vincent returned home from church a few nights ago and found that a burglar had been in his house, he noticed that the front curtain had been drawn as though some one had watched his approach.

One peculiar fact connected with the robbery is that the thief does not take anything but the front curtain, which he can be identified. At the home of Dr. McCoy he did not take a Columbia hall dollar which lay in plain view before his eyes. At the home of Walter Vincent he took a razor, but not the razor.

A professional burglar would take anything and everything he could lay hands on and then dispose of them in some other town. The Wichita fellow, however, never takes anything but the front curtain, which he can be identified.

The police are making every possible effort to locate the sneak thief and some day he will be caught while committing his depredations.

In the recent series of burglaries not over $10 has been secured, with the exception of $25 stolen from a three-room house on East First street three weeks ago. This robbery was committed in daylight, and the money was taken from the bottom of a trunk, showing that the robber knew where to find it.

Whether it is, he will do anything to avoid capture. He will do his best to get out of the city before he is caught.

ENTERTAIN IN GARFIELD HALL

Throckmortons and Sims
Were Hosts to Friends.

PARTY WAS BRILLIANT

Two Hundred Guests Enjoyed
Festivities Last Night.

Garfield hall was the scene last night of a brilliant entertainment given by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Throckmorton and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Sims to nearly 200 of their friends. Never has the hall presented a more dazzling appearance and never has a more successful event occurred in the social circles of the city.

The colors of the party were old rose and apple green. The colors, in bunting, were stretched around the sides of the hall and the windows were draped with them. The three chandeliers in the hall were decorated with old rose, apple green and white, by means of festoons which hung from them. The decorations of the stage, where refreshments were served, was the work of an artist. Overhanging a table in the center of the stage were festoons of the colors of the evening, and placed attractively around the front of the stage were palms and ferns.

The room had been divided into two parts, one for those who desired to play cards and the other for dancing. The dining which separated the two divisions was decorated with palms and ferns.

About forty guests spent the first part of the evening at cards. Two or three couples of guests of Wichita had been offered as prizes. The card room was in charge of Miss Jessie Magill and Miss Olive Magill.

Musical entertainment was furnished by part of Shaw's orchestra. The dancing program was varied with waltzes, two-steps, five-steps, Virginia reels and prairie dances.

Throughout the evening refreshments were served by Miss Nita Wood, Mary Patterson, Bessie Well and Donny Fisher. About 10 o'clock refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake, mince, salad, olives and coffee, were served.

The colors of old rose and apple green were carried out in the ice cream and cake. The young ladies who served refreshments were dressed in the colors of the evening. Those who served were: Misses Jessie Magill, Olive Magill, Bessie Well, Donny Fisher, Chandler, Lettie Brown, Mary Comly, Mary Bittling, Maud Hess and Louise McNamara.

more relief from the obligation to pay liquidated damages than it can receive from the obligation to pay a promissory note executed upon sufficient consideration.

The decree in the case should be that the plaintiff's bill be dismissed for want of equity and as thus modified, the decree of the circuit court is affirmed.

This settles the case for all time. It has gone to the highest court in the land that has jurisdiction in the matter and by the decision of that court the case is settled for all time and will keep it.

The case was submitted to and argued before Circuit Judges Caldwell, Sanborn and Thayer. The opinion of the court was delivered by Judge Caldwell, all the other justices concurring in that opinion.

The opinion of the court points out the fact that in the contract between the Wichita Railway, Light and Power company and the city of Wichita, the city was to pay, the sum of $100,000 had been agreed on by both parties to the contract as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.

That clause in the original contract goes to show that both parties had a knowledge of the value of the work and the cost of the work, and that the city was to pay, the sum of $100,000 had been agreed on by both parties to the contract as liquidated damages and not as a penalty.
